The College of Family and Consumer Sciences

FACS 100 Gala
A Centennial Celebration

Saturday, February 24, 2018
Welcome to the FACS 100 Gala: A Centennial Celebration!

On Feb. 23, 1918 – 100 years ago this weekend – a degree program for women was approved in the division of home economics within the University of Georgia College of Agriculture.

This degree program not only burst open the doors for women at UGA, it laid the groundwork for what would become the School of Home Economics, and later still, the College of Family and Consumer Sciences.

No matter our name, we are all one big family, and we owe a debt of gratitude to so many who came before us who established a strong college supported by a profession dedicated to improving the human condition.

Because of these early leaders and advocates, we are here tonight, reflecting on a century of public service, of strengthening families and of pursuing meaningful research that improves lives. In that spirit of gratitude, I thank our sponsors for your generous support of the evening. Also, thank you to the FACS Alumni Association, our hosts for the evening, and the Centennial Honorees and Gala Committee members.

Enjoy your time this evening as we celebrate you, our FACS 100 Centennial Honorees and the members of our Honor Hall of Recognition.

We want to see the Gala from your perspective. Please post your photos on social media and tag us, and use the hashtag #FACS100.

Please remain engaged with our vibrant college and outstanding university to be an active part of the history we are making, today and every day!

Sincerely,

Linda Kirk Fox
Dean
PROGRAM

Introduction of the Emcees  Neal Estroff (BSHE ’84)
Skye Estroff (BSFCS ’15)

Welcome  Camille Kesler (BSFCS ’94)
President, FACS Alumni Association

DINNER

Remarks from the President  Jere W. Morehead (JD ’80)
President, University of Georgia

Video Presentation  Neal Estroff / Skye Estroff
Emcees

Remarks from the Dean  Linda Kirk Fox
Dean, College of Family and Consumer Sciences

Student Reflection  Savannah Lockman (BSFCS ’18)
President, Student Alumni Council

FACS 100 Honoree Recognition

FACS Ambassadors
Morgan Easley  Sarah Beth Massengale
Jessica Wonn  Madison Metcalf
Nadia Gaines  Merin Mathew
Aamanya Raval  Rachel Cleypool

Remarks from FACS 100 Honoree  Tammy Gilland (BSHE ’88)
Former FACS Alumni Association President

Closing  Neal Estroff / Skye Estroff
Emcees

GROUP PHOTOS

When prompted at the conclusion of the program, please come to the stage for the official FACS 100 Centennial Honoree group photo and Honor Hall of Recognition group photo.
CENTENNIAL SPONSORS

CENTENNIAL CHAMPION

[Logos of sponsors]

FRIEND OF THE GALA

Jenna and Clanton Black • Wayne and Linda Kirk Fox
Camille and Paul Kesler • Kathy and Danny Palmer
Matrix Residential • Edie and Lamar Smith
Lynda Cowart Talmadge • The Quadrillion

CENTENNIAL HOST

Rob and Renita Jones Anderson • Geoffrey Warren Bell
Megan and Michael Crook • Sandra Whaley Derrick and Sid Derrick
Theresa Lynn Glasheen • Laura and David Jolly
Patricia Dabbs Hackney and Howard Hackney
Jennifer and Greg Holcomb • James H. III and Jane Anthony Hubert
Debbie and Lowell Murray • Claudia and John Noell
Cara and Andre Simmons • Jessica Tripp
Bonnie Stephens Petersen and Clark E. Petersen
Marilyn L. Poole • Deborah Burgess Wise and Asha Wise

CENTENNIAL ENTHUSIAST

Lindsey Derrick • Heidi Harriman Ewen
Parks McLeod, Jr. • Ligaya and Onofre R. Paguio

Special thanks to our media partner, Wier/Stewart
Carolyn Ainslie
BSHE ’74, MED ’87
Served families and 4-H youth, delivering nutrition education and coordinating volunteers and projects, inspiring program assistants and partnering with agencies.

Jeanie Doss Allen
MED ’73
Emeritus professor and former chair of home economics at Abraham Baldwin Agricultural College; tireless advocate of the field and a caring teacher.

Elizabeth Andress
Nationally recognized leader and expert who has ensured safe food handling and processing policies and resources reach consumers through the National Center for Home Food Preservation she’s directed for nearly two decades resulting in a Career Excellence Award from the Association of Public and Land-grant Universities (APLU).

Patti Annis
Nationally-known teaching and research faculty whose expertise with fabric and textile testing methods has resulted in being named an Honorary Fellow of the American Standards and Testing Methods.

Cliff Baile
The Georgia Research Alliance Eminent Scholar in Agricultural Biotechnology, his visionary leadership created and implemented the campus-wide Obesity Initiative, putting UGA at the forefront of obesity research.

Stella Williams Bailey
BSHE ’69, MHE ’71
Professional motivational speaker and communications/life coach, founder of her business “Be a Star With Stella.” Inspires people of all ages to discover their talents and uniqueness, serving UGA Alumni Board of Directors for a decade and always mentoring others.

Wanda Barrs
BSHE ’74
Always serving educators, students and policy makers, she challenges and trains others to find the best avenues for enhancing the educational programs for the success of families and children.

Carolyn Berdanier
A prolific researcher as faculty and department head investigating nutrient–gene interactions, she remains engaged and committed to mentoring students and supporting their scientific skills and careers.

Jenna Black
BSHE ’85, MED ’87
Career of teaching FACS in high schools, she founded the James H. Frasier Child Development Center at Decatur High School to serve pregnant and parenting teens along with faculty and staff children, recognized as Teacher of the Year in Georgia.

Emily Blalock
MS ’06
While at FACS, her initiative, creativity and dedication to students in fashion merchandising produced exciting learning opportunities including the Couture a la Cart and entrepreneurial partnerships between Athens boutique owners and women in Ghana.
FACS 100 HONOREES

Jose Blanco
A nationally-recognized scholar of fashion and popular culture, he was an inspiring and passionate teacher and worked to elevate the Historic Costume Collection while he was at FACS for nine years.

Judy Bland
BSHE ’74
Throughout her career as a FACS/4-H County Extension Agent, she worked tirelessly to develop programs addressing community problems and was instrumental in inspiring teamwork among all the Southwest District Extension Agents, especially in mentorship of young county agents.

Donald Bower
DPA ’89
Gifted teacher noted for his enthusiasm and humor, he has left an indelible impression on hundreds of FACS students, Extension faculty and professionals he reached through a long career in parenting education, childhood injury prevention, gerontology, and adolescent development, resulting in a Distinguished Career Award by the Cooperative State Research, Education and Extension Service of USDA.

Katrina Bowers
BSHE ’84
Pioneering Director of Development for FACS, surpassing the college’s Archway to Excellence campaign goal by 250 percent; lifelong supporter of FACS alumni, leaders and friends through an endowed fund in the college in her name.

Wayne Brantley
AB ’64
Retired President of the Lanier Clothes Division of Oxford Industries, he was instrumental in securing support and funding through his role as trustee of the Georgia Soft Goods Education Foundation, a sustaining relationship benefiting faculty and students in fashion merchandising and placing graduates in the fashion industry.

Fan Brooke
Advocate on behalf of young children and their families and the need for support for educators, she directed the McPhaul Child and Family Development Lab of FACS from 1963 until her retirement in 1984 and led the formation of the Georgia Association on Young Children in 1966.

Susan Brooks
Beloved for her charm, warmth and support, she served as office manager of the Department of Housing and Consumer Economics for 28 years, a recipient of the Nettie Marie Nickols Award for exceptional customer service by staff; part of her legacy is a professional development endowed fund in the college in her name.

Zena Costa Brown
BSHE ’38
Blazed a trail for women at the Atlanta Gas Light Company during her 30 years as a home economist, creating and leading the department of Consumer Information and Education, her legacy includes multiple endowments in the college supporting international study opportunities and scholarships.

Thomas Cochran
AB ’71
Conceptualized the establishment of a service-learning program to provide financial education to UGA staff through lunch-and-learn programs and for FACS students to engage in real-life counseling through the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) program, a sustaining partnership with Georgia United Credit Union and private funders.
FACS 100 HONOREES

Harrileen Jones Conner
BSHE ’83, MED ’91
For her lifetime of coaching and mentoring Family, Career and Community Leaders of America (FCCLA) students, she has been recognized as Master Mentor by the organization, a tireless booster of the college and FACS professionals

Caree Cotwright
MS ’04, PHD ’08
Her passion for creating innovative education through theater-based programming and teaching methods to prevent childhood obesity and reduce health disparities has resulted in her being named both UGA and Georgia Trend Magazine’s 40 Under 40 lists and securing a featured speaking role at TEDxUGA

Connie Crawley
Her demonstrated career excellence in creating Extension and Outreach programs related to health promotion and disease prevention has made a major impact on the health-related behaviors both in the state of Georgia and nationally

Aleene Cross
Known for her scholarship, passion and high spirits throughout her career, she was a major force in shaping home economic education at UGA, in Georgia and the nation, touching thousands of lives of students and educators

Brenda Cude
Accomplished scholar and author on consumer decision-making, with an emphasis on personal financial literacy, she has a 30+ year career through Extension and teaching, representing consumer interests on a variety of boards and commissions

Leslie Younts Curl
BSHE ’82
FACS “Graduate of the Decade” in the 1980s, her career in marketing and client services and service to UGA Alumni Association Board of Directors benefits FACS and students she mentors

Ilene Dailey
MS ’79
Developed strong teachers and leaders throughout her career dedicated to Extension, training new home economics agents and serving as Southeast District Extension Director

Thomas Davis
BSFCS ’11
A FACS graduate and student-athlete turned NFL All-Pro linebacker and NFL Man of the Year award recipient with the Carolina Panthers, he founded and is personally involved with the Thomas Davis Defending Dreamers Foundation (TDDDF) and the Youth Leadership Academy which helps students develop life and social skills to thrive

Kelly Dean
BSHE ’89, MS ’91
Active with UGA Alumni Board of Directors and Women of UGA, a five-time winner of the Bulldog 100 Award, along with her husband and business partner, Stanley, her legacy in FACS is an endowment in the name of McGill and Dean families supporting international study

Bill Elliott
A 40-year career in banking and an entrepreneur in retirement, along with his sons, Paul and Mark Elliott, created a scholarship endowment to honor the memory his late wife and their mother, a FACS graduate
Dick Endsley
Faculty scholar and teacher who focused on quality child care and fostering children’s early intellectual development, he and foods and nutrition faculty James J. Peifer endowed a fund to support graduate student published research in both the social and biological sciences, representing their commitment to the college and across disciplines.

Nolan Etters
After a 20-year career in industry, his research in indigo dyeing of fabrics won him honors in achievement in textile chemistry; remembered fondly by students as both serious and lighthearted.

Betty Etters
Respected and loved by her students, she led the fashion merchandising internship program and was the one constant that students in the major experienced for many years in the college.

Joan Fischer
MS ’82, PHD ’92
Throughout her career in the college, she excelled in research, teaching and public service with integrity and innovation, influencing future nutritionists and dietitians through her years as director of the undergraduate dietetics program.

Megan Ford
Her seven years as the first and extremely dedicated coordinator of the ASPIRE Clinic have positioned the college in the minds of the university and the community as a caring and high quality public service and outreach clinic delivering academically sound therapy, financial planning and nutrition counseling.

Linda Kirk Fox
Seventh and current dean of the college, her vision is to build a college of cohesive faculty and staff with distinctive and well-funded FACS programs representing the comprehensive land-grant research university mentoring diverse learners.

Jerry Gale
A co-founder of the ASPIRE Clinic and long-standing professor of marriage and family therapy who has spent over 25 years empowering graduate and undergraduate students, mentoring peers, and challenging all towards greater insight into social justice in their work.

Charlie Gilbert
First Distinguished Professor of Soft Goods Merchandising and Manufacturing, he expanded students’ experience in product development, supply chains, global supply and much more, making them highly marketable graduates.

Tammy Gilland
BSHE ’88
A 23-year career at UGA planning jobs in Alumni Relations and Development, she was named the Vice President of Piedmont Athens Regional Foundation and continues her innovation and service to others; has been recognized by her alma mater and the community in which she is so engaged.

Joseph Goetz
Financial planning faculty who students rely on not only during their college experience, but in career and life after college; co-founded the Financial Therapy Association, an organization of professionals dedicated to the integration of cognitive, emotional, behavioral, relational and financial aspects of well-being.
FACS 100 HONOREES

Jennifer Gonyea
PHD ’05
Lecturer in the college, practicing marriage and family therapist and past president of the Georgia Association for Marriage and Family Therapy, she models a deep commitment to teaching and improving the lives of others and the power of service to the community.

Beverly Gray
Office manager in the Department of Textiles, Merchandising and Interiors for more than 20 years, she made a positive lasting impression through customer service and competence in all she accomplished.

Art Grider
Teacher and mentor of graduate students and one of the foremost authorities on zinc and zinc nutrition, through 30-plus years on the faculty his students appreciate all he has taught them about science, life and character.

Barbara Grossman
MS ’83, PHD ’89
Through her service as director of the dietetic internship program, provides guidance to hundreds of dietetic interns for whom she has eased the transition from student to career professional; instills in students the willingness to jump in and learn all they can.

Earl & Anne Haltiwanger
BSHE ’67, MS ’69
Strong advocates for FACS, they established endowed funds to support the student experiences in study abroad and through scholarships, as well as a professorship as legacies for her career in the college in child and family development and as a laboratory school teaching at the Athens Unit of the Georgia Mental Retardation Center for seven years.

Chuck Halverson
Over 30 years in the college in child and family development, he is described by former graduate students as the “intellectual rock” who helped them prepare to critically evaluate ideas and develop uncommon insights and the drive to seek knowledge and scientific rigor.

Doe Harden
BSHE ’41, MED ’59
Along with Dean Pou, she and others established the Home Economics Alumni Association in 1977, serving 4,600 alumni and publishing Highlights, the first alumni newsletter.

Ian Hardin
A scholar on the use of enzymes in chemical processing of fibers and fabrics, the former department head, Georgia Power Professor of Textile Science Emeritus is a founding member of the Georgia Soft Goods Education Foundation and frequent lecturer on all things related to Scotland.

Tonya Renee Harris
With 22-plus years as office manager in the Department of Foods and Nutrition, she is an innovative and key member of the staff, creating processes and procedures to ensure efficiency, access and organization to the unit.
Judy Harrison
PHD ’92
Nationally recognized food safety expert and Extension professor with 25+ years at UGA, she has led major federally funded projects resulting in safe food handling, safer farm-to-table practices and increased hand washing.

Grace Hartley
The food editor at the Atlanta Journal Constitution for more than four decades and author of well-respected cookbooks about Southern food, the consumer journalism scholarship in the college bearing her name is testimony to a long career in home economics through journalism.

Jan Hathcote
BSHE ’74
Fashion merchandising faculty who served the college as associate dean for academic programs and research prior to becoming UGA Registrar until her retirement, her career was committed to the quality of undergraduate and graduate student experience.

Judy Hibbs
MED ’88, EDD ’07
Retiring in 2016, she served residents in several counties through 35 years of public service dedicated to innovative teaching about better nutrition, food preservation and obesity prevention.

Louise Hill
BSHE ’79, MED ’86
Developing leaders through the UGA J.S. Fanning Institute for Leadership Development, devoted to 4-H, CAES and FACS colleges, she served as the president of the alumni association during the pivotal times and decisions regarding the name change of the college.

Patricia Hunt-Hurst
BSHE ’77, MS ’83
Well-liked and a mentor of graduate students, she is a teacher and well-published scholar of historic dress, serving 10 years as department head of Textiles, Merchandising and Interiors and now as Associate Dean for Academic Programs for the college.

Kenneth Ivory
BSHE ’87
An active student leader, trailblazer and first male state officer in Georgia for the Future Homemakers of America, he continues to empower and bring out the best in others through his 30+ year career in food service management and volunteer board service.

Lisa Gipson Jarvis
BSFCS ’95, MED ’01
An active FACS undergraduate and recipient of UGA 40 Under 40, she has served both college and UGA Alumni Board of Directors in addition to her career advancements, now VP of Operations and Marketing at Corptek I. T. Solutions.

Mary Ann Johnson
Distinguished and devoted career of 30+ years in the college, the Flatt Professorship she holds recognizes her outstanding record of research, teaching, public service and leadership directed at training future nutrition and dietetic professionals, currently President of the American Society for Nutrition (ASN).
Laura Dunn Jolly
Always focused on the best student experience, she served as sixth dean of the college and the Vice President for Instruction at UGA before taking her current job as the Dean of the College of Human Sciences at Iowa State University.

Lenna Gertrude Judd
After relocating to Dalton, Ga., from New York in the early 1900s, she championed the Progressive Era and the betterment of communities and lives of area residents; provided generous financial donation for a new nutritional sciences laboratory in 1919 in support of the new Home Economics scientific research program.

Camille Kesler
BSFCS ’94
A passionate advocate for the college wherever she goes and with everyone she meets; president of the FACS Alumni Association and named a UGA 40 Under 40, she is an entrepreneur and Executive Director of Rebuilding Together Atlanta.

Melissa Landers-Potts
MA ’94, PHD ’98
In more than a decade as a lecturer in human development and family science, she provides high quality and rigorous instruction and attracts new students to the major and inspired former students to create “Strive for College,” a service-learning project to re-engage with at-risk students.

Richard Lewis
BS ’75, MS ’78
Dedicated teacher and mentor of undergraduate and graduate students’ research endeavors in his nationally recognized lab focusing on osteoporosis prevention, primarily in children, he is the UGA Foundation Professor in FACS.

Daisey Lewis
During segregation, she was the first African-American advisor for the teachers of home economics in African-American schools and state advisor for the New Homemakers of American organization to assist them, traveling throughout Georgia at a time when she was advised it was not safe to do so alone.

Charlotte Lucas
BSFCS ’05
Selected as one of the Bulldog 100, the fastest growing businesses owned by UGA graduates, her interior design business in Charlotte, N.C., has been recognized in House Beautiful’s 2017 Next Wave Designer feature.

Winnie Luffman
A master teacher in textiles who earned the respect of her students for her high standards for student learning and her thoughtful and caring instruction from the early 1950s into the 1970s.

Esther Maddux
BSHE ’72
A professor in FACS and at Kansas State University in personal financial planning and consumer economics, she built a nationally recognized career for her expertise and prolific curriculum and service through the Association for Financial Counseling and Planning Education (AFCPE).
F A C S 1 0 0 H O N O R E E S

Sara Marcketti
AB ’00, MS ’02
Iowa State University professor in apparel, merchandising and designer, she is a scholar and teacher in the field of the history of dress, receiving the FACS Pacesetter Award and contributing to the preparation of career professionals.

Dawn Brown Martin
BSHE ’87
Director of the Culinary Arts Program, a state-wide and nationally award-winning program of South Forsyth High School, annually brings 1,000+ students to Georgia Family, Career and Community Leaders (FCCLA) leadership conference, garnering top awards.

Donna Martin
BSHE ’75
She has impacted the health and well-being of children throughout Georgia and the nation in her role as director of the Burke County school nutrition program and as the representative to the White House and Mrs. Obama’s “Let’s Move” roundtable; currently the President of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics.

Clair McClure
MS ’11, PHD ’17
Lecturer and internship coordinator who is passionate and effective in enabling students to access fashion industry careers; faculty advisor for the National Retail Federation.

Rebecca Mullis
Recognized teacher and scholar, along with grant funding in the area of community nutrition and disease prevention as well as a service of 13 years as department head for foods and nutrition.

Tommie Mullis
BSHE ’56, MS ’79
Versatile professional whose career across a wide range of FACS-related jobs has improved the lives of families throughout the state through UGA Extension, teaching and the Historical Housing Study Tour to Natchez, Mississippi.

Sharon Nickols-Richardson
MS ’94, PHD ’98
Currently professor and head of the Department of Food Science and Human Nutrition at the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign, at UGA she enhanced the Bone and Body Composition Lab’s reputation as a well-known imaging research lab through her research into bone growth and diet in young female gymnasts.

Claudia Noell
BSHE ’64
With nearly 30 years of service as Clarke County Extension agent, she served the state and national professional organizations, garnering distinguished service awards from both; her legacy in the college is an endowed fund supporting students’ international study experiences.

Lance Palmer
Loved by financial planning students, he developed the highly reputable Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) program and partnership between the IRS and the Georgia United Credit Union, providing low-income families free advice through trained student volunteers.
FACS 100 HONOREES

Kathy Palmer
BSHE ’76, JD ’79
The first UGA home economics graduate to graduate from UGA School of Law, she has 38 years of experience in the legal profession and more than 16 years of service as the Chief Judge of the Middle Judicial Circuit in Swainsboro

Terry Perenich
Instrumental in establishing the textile science program in the college, served as department head for 14 years and hired many premier young scientists who have continued to build the program’s reputation to the present day

Bonnie Stephens Petersen
BSHE ’79
Strong advocate for the college and willing mentor of FACS students while serving her second term on UGA’s Alumni Association Board of Directors and as Advisor to the President, a new position on the FACS Alumni Association Board

Debbie Phillips
BSHE ’85, MS ’87
Developed core course curriculum to launch residential property management programs in our college and at Georgia Tech, serving as a tireless advocate for the industry and as the President of the Georgia Apartment Industry Education Foundation

Cherish Pinson
BSFCS ’09
Vital part of Middle Georgia FACS alumni group and the FACS Alumni Association Board of Directors, she is an entrepreneur and owner of The Pink Flamingo, a Lilly Pulitzer Signature Store in Macon, Ga.

Marilyn Poole
BSHE ’75, MED ’87
Influential Extension career with lasting impact building Athens–Clarke County 4–H into one of the most successful in the state and coordinating 4–H health–related statewide trainings reaching over 80,000 Georgia 4–Hers

Sharon Price
Her teaching excellence and extensive publishing record were recognized with awards and her being named a Fellow of the National Council on Family Relations (NCFR); served as department head of child and family development

Betty Ragland
BSHE ’59
An enthusiastic lifelong advocate, leader and mentor to many FACS graduates, her boundless commitment and mantra “FACS grads can do anything” is inspiring to all who meet her in Macon, Ga., where she is known as “Queen Betty”

Connie Rash
Head of the Student Services office for many years, a beloved advisor who impacted the lives of a generation of students; her legacy is well remembered because she always put our students first

Jane Rhoden
Beginning in 1981 she was the assistant to the dean for undergraduate instruction and served as the faculty advisor for students majoring in Home Economics and Journalism; her positive influence on countless students is felt across Georgia and beyond
FAC S 1 0 0 H O N O R E E S

Tom Rodgers
BSA ’67, MS ’69
Enjoyed a long and successful career at UGA as director of 4-H and subsequently County Operations for Georgia Cooperative Extension; established the Georgia Initiative for Community Housing (GICH), the nationally recognized program empowering communities to develop and implement locally-based housing and revitalization strategies.

Ava Rodgers
MS ’61
A career in home economics education and Extension culminated in being appointed the Deputy Administrator for Home Economics and Human Nutrition at the USDA Extension Service in Washington, D.C.; her legacy includes an endowed fund supporting graduate education in the name of her parents, L. Frank and Georgia D. Rodgers.

Cara Winston Simmons
AB ’03, MED ’07
Current Director of the college’s Student Success and Advising Center, she is instrumental in creating and implementing a centralized, highly skilled and effective team of academic advisors, enhancing the reputation of FACS as a student-centered college.

Edie Smith
BSHE ’84, BSPH ’97
UGA nutrition and pharmacy degrees have allowed her to combine interests in the science of food and drug interactions and her entrepreneurial spirit to build her pharmacy into a Bulldog 100 awardee, recognizing one of the fastest growing businesses owned by a UGA graduate.

Vera W. Stewart
BSHE ’74
From her start as a home economics teacher, for over 30 years she has built a successful nation-wide mail-order catering business, VeryVera, and she is executive producer and host of the syndicated VeryVera Show, now in its sixth season with 32 episodes each season.

Daniel Stewart
BSFCS ’05
Co-owner and studio director of Wier Stewart, a full-service creative firm in Augusta that has been named to the Bulldog 100 list for three consecutive years, he also gives his time and talent as marketing committee chair and as a member of the FACS Alumni Association Board of Directors.

Lynda Cowart Talmadge
BSHE ’61
Named a “Gracious Lady” of Georgia in 2004, she was active in 4-H and worked as an Extension agent and also served as president of the FACS Alumni Association.

John Taylor
BSFCS ’06
One of the first graduates of the FACS Financial Planning program, he is a promoter and champion of the program, serving on the FP Alumni Council and helping hire our graduates at Homrich Berg, a fee-only financial planning firm in Atlanta where he is a principle.
FACS 100 Honorees Selection and Criteria

Honorees were chosen by a committee made up of faculty, staff, alumni, students and college leadership after an open nominations process in advance of the college’s centennial celebration in 2018.

All alumni, former and current faculty and staff members, friends and donors were eligible for this recognition, and deserving individuals could have been honored posthumously.

For detailed bios, please visit: http://www.fcs.uga.edu/centennial

Jim Thompson
BS ’15, ABJ ’15
A UGA graduate who while in student government was instrumental in championing the creation of the Inclusive Post-Secondary Education (IPSE) experience at UGA called “Destination Dawgs,” led through the college’s Institute of Human Development and Disability (IHDD)

Nayda Torres
Faculty member and supervisor of the student Home Management residential course experience, she made an indelible difference in students’ lives with her knowledge, passion and enthusiasm for her profession and her students

Ginger Vickery
BSFCS ’91, MS ’95
She embodies the ideals of the discipline through her pursuit of advanced degrees in FACS, her service to others through her work on and off campus, and through her commitment to advancing the mission of the field

Kathy Wages
BSHE ’71
Throughout her life she was an advocate for families and children, serving others through her leadership of several boards and agencies and her career in 4-H, FACS Extension and the Family Connection Partnership

Charlotte Wallinga
Faculty member and lead for the Child Life Program before her retirement from the department of Human Development and Family Science, she was an engaged and visionary administrator and teacher who encouraged each student’s full potential

Lynda Walters
PHD ’78
Recipient of the first Ph.D. in child and family development in the college, she served as faculty member, associate dean for research and instruction and was president of the National Council on Family Relations (NCFR)

Hines Ward
BSFCS ’98
Recipient of his consumer economics degree in 1998, his career in the NFL includes the Super Bowl IL MVP as a member of the Pittsburgh Steelers and the Walter Payton Man of the Year Award; also helped found the Helping Hands Foundation to improve the lives of inner city and underprivileged youth in Pittsburgh and Atlanta
HONOR HALL OF RECOGNITION

Zo Stoneman
2017

Roy Martin
2016

Josephine Martin
2015

Gene Brody
2014

Anne Sweaney
2013

Louise Hyers
2012

Sharon Nickols
2011

Bill Flatt
2010

Elizabeth Sheerer
2009

Marian McCullers
2008

Wanda Grogan
2007

Jim Walters
2005

Jesse Mize
2004

Emily Quinn Pou
2003

CONTINUED ON NEXT PAGE
HONOR HALL OF RECOGNITION

Maude Pye Hood
1993

Gwen B. O’Connell
1992

Montine Jackson
1991

Eddy B. Ross
1990

Frances Champion
1989

Leonora Anderson
1988

Leolene C. Montgomery
1987

Eleanor Pryor
1986

Janett M. Barber
1985

Mary Speirs
1984

Margaret McPhaul
1983

Asia Elizabeth Todd
1982

Leila R. Mize
1981

Mary Creswell
1980

--- 16 ---
UPCOMING CENTENNIAL EVENTS

WOMEN’S HISTORY MONTH
March 1, 2018 – March 31, 2018

We are proud of our history as the entry point for women at UGA and look forward to recognizing Women’s History Month and the many significant contributions of women throughout our centennial events of 2018.

UGA TRIVIA NIGHT
April 11, 2018
Eventide Brewing | Atlanta, Georgia

Time to test your knowledge! Grab your friends and join the FACS Alumni Association and fellow UGA alumni for a night of trivia at Eventide Brewing. Book your ticket today at www.fcs.uga.edu/UGATriviaNight

MARY CRESWELL’S BIRTHDAY (1879)
October 15, 2018
Athens, Georgia

Mary Creswell, who was born on October 15, 1879, was the first female to receive a baccalaureate degree from the University of Georgia. She earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Home Economics in 1919. Creswell was selected as the first dean of the School of Home Economics in 1933, and she held this position until her retirement in 1945.

FACS WEEK
Fall 2018
Athens, Georgia

We’re 100 years old! Join us for celebratory events this fall including Homecoming and Celebrating Excellence. Details to come.

For the latest updates on FACS news and events, connect with us on Facebook, and follow us on Twitter and Instagram. We would love to see you celebrating the centennial year with us.

Share your photos using #FACS100

facebook /ugafacs
twitter /facsuga
instagram /ugafacs
Thank you to all the individuals, businesses and organizations for their generous contributions to the FACS 100 Gala: A Centennial Celebration and for helping to make the FACS 100 Centennial year a success.
The FACS Alumni Awards ceremony will return in Spring 2019. Help us recognize the contributions of the graduates of our college by nominating outstanding individuals or organizations for the FACS Alumni Association’s Awards. These alumni, faculty, staff and friends have made significant contributions to the Alumni Association, the College, the profession and/or society in general.

ALUMNI AWARDS

Distinguished Alumni Award
Recognizes a FACS graduate for making lifelong contributions that sustain the beliefs and values of Family and Consumer Sciences.

Outstanding Service Award
Recognizes a FACS graduate for continued involvement in his/her community, faith community, helping organizations, the College or the Alumni Association.

Pacesetter Award
Recognizes an individual who graduated from the College within the past 10 years and actively promotes the beliefs and values of family and consumer sciences.

Emily Quinn Pou Professional Achievement Award
Recognizes a FACS graduate for attaining substantial achievements and is in the midpoint of her/his career.

FRIENDS OF THE COLLEGE AWARDS

Creswell Award
Named for the first dean of the College, recognizes a current or retired faculty or staff member who has provided leadership in motivating and guiding students.

FACS Appreciation Award
Given to an individual, collaborator, company or agency for contributing significantly to FACS either financially, programmatically, or legislatively.

Honor Hall of Recognition
Designed to give appropriate recognition to those who have made highly significant achievements in the fields in family and consumer sciences, who have impeccable character and commitment, and who have provided truly outstanding leadership and made noteworthy contributions. Nominations may be submitted by anyone. Nominations will be carried over from year to year.

NOMINATE TODAY!
To submit a nomination for the 2019 FACS Alumni Awards, visit: http://www.fcs.uga.edu/alumni/nominate-facs-awards

Nominations are due October 1, 2018. For more information, please email alumni@fcs.uga.edu
Make plans now to visit the exhibit “Open Doors: 100 Years of Family and Consumer Sciences at UGA,” hosted by the University of Georgia’s Richard B. Russell Special Collections Library.

The exhibit, featuring photos and artifacts from the college’s history, opened January 22 and will run through May 18, 2018. For more information, visit http://www.libs.uga.edu/scl or call (706) 542-7123.

100 Years Enriching Lives – Family and Consumer Sciences at UGA

A pictorial history of Family and Consumer Sciences with special foreword from UGA President Jere Morehead

By Sharon Shannon-Paximadis

Through black and white and color photographs, biographies and timeline facts, “100 Years Enriching Lives: Family and Consumer Sciences at UGA,” celebrates a rich and unique history. This 140-page pictorial history chronicles an amazing journey from the founding of the Division of Home Economics in the aftermath of World War I through modern times and includes a glimpse at what the future holds.

In celebration of this momentous year, FACS is currently fundraising to fully endow the FACS Centennial Endowment for Student Success. This fund will provide student support for activities such as student leadership, travel, professional development, and other activities that support and enhance the learning experience for FACS students.

We hope you will consider donating to this fund and help us use this centennial year as an opportunity to provide further resources to our deserving students. Every gift makes an impact. If you’re interested in giving to the Centennial Endowment for Student Success or for more information, contact Director of Development, Tricia White, at (706) 542-4946 or by email at patricia.white@uga.edu
College of Family and Consumer Sciences
UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA