2. The problems
3. The solutions
4. The results
“Property Acquisition for Neighborhood Revitalization”

1. Who We Are
Macon-Bibb County Land Bank Authority:

- A non-profit corporation organized under Georgia law, created through an inter-local agreement between the City of Macon and Bibb County
- Works with the City and County in the implementation of community and economic development; specifically providing land to be used in the production of housing for low and moderate income families
- Primary objective is to place underutilized parcels of property in a productive use status, to generate tax revenue and enhance the quality of life for residents living in targeted communities
The Macon Housing Authority:

- Created in 1938
- HUD High Performer for Public Housing (2076 units)
- Ditto for Section 8 (2,369 units)
- But HUD cuts our throat and bugs us
- Need to diversify our income/asset base
- Our in-house non-profits have:
  - Built/rehabbed/sold 70 single-family houses
  - Completed 283 tax-credit units/in the pipeline
  - Developed Grove Park Village, a 40 unit PSHP funded by DCA
The City of Macon: An Invaluable Partner:

- In a partnership with Bibb County, funds the operations of the Land Bank Authority
- Provides funds for land acquisition
- Prepares Redevelopment Plans and market studies for targeted communities
- Provide technical assistance with the implementation of redevelopment plans
- Funds acquisition activities required under the URA such as legal expenses, appraisals, condemnation expenses
- Responds aggressively to emerging inner-city drug problems, code enforcement problems, etc.
Redevelopment Partners

- City of Macon
- Bibb County
- Macon Housing Authority
- Land Bank Authority
- In-Fill Housing, Inc.
- Bealls Hill Development Corporation
- Macon Heritage Foundation
- Habitat for Humanity
- Central South Task Force
Property Acquisition for Neighborhood Revitalization

2. The Problem

a) Unique challenges in inner-city areas
b) Property acquisition is difficult and fragmented
a. Inner-city areas have “unique challenges”*

- Disinvestment has occurred over decades
- Code enforcement can’t keep up
- Crime/drugs, etc., or. . . .
- The image of crime/drugs, etc. can be a reality
- The erosion of the middle class
- The preponderance of renters
- The breakdown of institutions

*PC for “hellatious problems”
b. Properties targeted for redevelopment aren’t always obtainable

- Owners can’t be found, or
- Owners can be found but don’t have clear title, or
- Owners can be found and they have clear title, but they want to hold
- Neighborhood redevelopment fails when we just get the properties that no one else wants
- The importance of critical mass
- Hard lessons learned the hard way
“Property Acquisition for Neighborhood Revitalization”

3. The Solutions

a) Eminent Domain
b) MHA/LBA Agreement
a) Eminent Domain

The Land Bank “Bus Tour”

- Spring, 1998
- Land Bank Board and staff, MHA Management
- Discussed problems with trying to buy targeted properties
- MHA and Land Bank staff/attorney mapped out a strategy on the spot, using eminent domain
- Never occurred to most of us that MHA has eminent domain powers
Eminent domain.

- Gives us the ability to acquire substandard and/or vacant properties
- Enables us to get the critical mass needed for successful neighborhood redevelopment
- Fast tracking
- Assures owner’s rights/day in court
- Not without some controversy
MHA’s eminent domain powers

- O.C.G.A. 8-3-31 ("Housing Authorities Law")
- Differs from a City’s Urban Renewal powers
- Must show public purpose
- Must be willing to pay “just and adequate compensation”
MHA’s eminent domain powers

- MHA adopted an “Eminent Domain Policy”
- Gives us
  - Another tool in the MHA tool kit, but
  - Prevents an “Attila the Hun approach” to redevelopment
- Another key partnership with the Land Bank Authority, the City of Macon and others
MHA’s Eminent Domain Policy

- Public purpose required
- Must be housing-related
  - Not a front for Wal-Mart
- MHA Board of Commissioners approves Redevelopment Plan and...
- MHA Board approves the use of eminent domain for each property
- For last resort use, after LBA’s efforts to acquire have been exhausted “Last resort use” where:

- Current owner can’t be located/identified
- Property is in an estate with multiple heirs who cannot be located or identified
- Owner(s) can’t provide clear title
- Bibb County has foreclosed due to non-payment of taxes
- Purchase negotiations have reached an impasse
- MHA believes the property is vital to the neighborhood’s redevelopment
Other stipulations:

- Minimize displacement as much as possible
  - Not always avoided
  - URA kicks in
- Third party appraisals establish value
Land Bank Authority & Eminent Domain

- The Land Bank assists other non-profit developers in requesting MHA’s powers of eminent domain.
- The Land Bank ensures that the URA guidelines will be followed by non-profit developers.
- Acquisition must be in accordance with MHA’s Eminent Domain Policy.
- “Agency Agreements” are entered between the Land Bank and non-profit developers for property acquisition.
b) MHA/LBA Agreement

- The Land Bank Authority serves as MHA’s agent for property acquisition. The LBA:
  - Determines ownership
  - Communicates/negotiates with property owners
  - Reports to MHA on status
  - Complies with URA requirements
  - Gives MHA advice/recommendations
Benefits to everyone

- Reduces duplication of effort among all of our partners
- URA requires technical expertise
- Saves time and money for everyone
MHA Provides

- Free rent and utilities to LBA
- Accounting services
- LBA has created a great niche role for themselves
- Win-Win-Win
Uniform Relocation & Real Property Acquisition Policies Act

All acquisition activities using federal funds must be in accordance with the URA requirements and include:

- Correspondence with property owners
- Title Examinations
- Appraisals and Review Appraisals
- Written Purchase Offers, Negotiations and Sales Agreements
- Acquisition or Eminent Domain
- Very detailed stuff, LBA does it all!
Agency Agreements

The Land Bank Authority has established agreements with non-profit agencies to acquire property in designated target areas:

- In-Fill Housing, Inc.
- Renaissance Housing Partnership
- Macon Housing Authority
- Macon Heritage Foundation
- City of Macon
“Property Acquisition for Neighborhood Revitalization”

4. The Results
Target areas include:

- Second-Ell Streets
- Prince-Nussbaum Area
- Beall’s Hill
- Hanson Street
- Tattnall Square Heights
- East Macon
- Cedar Street
- Plant Street
- Greenspace & other projects
The results are in and they are good!

- 88 condemnations initiated since 2001
- We’re batting 1.000 on the “public purpose test”
- $6.2 million in new inner-city revitalization
- 80 houses built or rehabbed since then
- A similar amount planned for next two-four years
