Lisa D. Jordan, M.S. Adult Education

Programming focus: Chronic Disease Prevention/Healthy Lifestyles, Positive Development for Individuals, Families and Communities

Lisa, housed in Chatham County, provides leadership to the federally funded Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program (EFNEP) in multiple counties in the area. This program offers a series of nutrition education sessions to limited resource families with children and is delivered through peer educators. Extension is a strong resource in the community and collaborations with partners demonstrates seamless service for child care providers. Child care providers are offered training for obtaining the state requirement of 10 training hours. Extension also works closely with the Early Learners College and Parent University to provide training for parents.
