Kristen Sumpter, Fulton County Agent

Education: B.A. in Public Sociology, 2012; M.A. in Public Sociology, 2014 – University of North Carolina, Wilmington.

Programming focus: Chronic Disease Prevention/Healthy Lifestyles, Positive Development for Individuals, Families and Communities, Financial Capability. The FACS Program in Fulton County is large, diverse and ever-changing. Fulton County places a large emphasis on the Walk Georgia program, a state-wide initiative that encourages residents to log their physical activity online while participating in local events and winning prizes. The Cooking for a Lifetime Cancer Prevention Cooking School has had a great turnout from residents in years past, and the program is planned to expand to even more areas in Fulton County this coming year. Based on community needs, the FACS program will further expand to include financial literacy and healthy relationship programming in the near future.

County media: Fulton County TV/Office of Communications, Atlanta Journal-Constitution, Neighbor Newspapers, Reporter Newspapers, Appen Media Group

UGA Extension offers educational programs, assistance and materials to all people without regard to race, color, national origin, age, gender or disability.
